LIFE PUNCH

HOLDING ON TO GOD AND HELPING EACH OTHER WHEN LIFE HITS HARD

DOUG JAMES HOOD

In his book Dream Big, Bob Goff describes how he observed sea otters floating in the water, arm in arm. Always in pairs. They hold on to take care of each other. They don't want any otter in their group to get lost. Preparing for this book, I spent a few days with Bob, and he impacted me in a big way. Life Punch is a collection of real-life stories. Some short, some long. Some serious, some silly. Each one reminds us that we should hold on to God and each other.

I'm on a mission to build and preserve community. I'll shine my light, and you shine yours. Let's go.
